

The Claremont Native American Fellowship provides selected Native American students with full tuition support to earn a California preliminary K-12 teaching credential and master's in education in as little as 15 months.

In addition, Fellows receive a year of mentoring once they complete the program, so that they emerge as teachers prepared with the skills needed to promote educational excellence in their communities.

For more information: <https://www.cgu.edu/cnaf>

Call: (909) 621-8076